

President's Peace Program Believed Defeated

NEW WATER PIPES were laid on Ramon Road yesterday by the Palm Springs Water Company in preparation for expected expansion of the southeast portion of the city. Almost completed now, the new water company pipeline covers 800 feet, cost $10,000 to install and stretches from a point 100 feet west of Palm Canyon Drive to Calle Ajo, east of Palm Canyon Drive. Water company officials said the pipeline, sections of which were installed in record time yesterday to facilitate traffic, will serve a future reservoir on the side of the hill directly to the west of Palm Canyon Drive-Ramon Road intersection. The pipeline will eventually connect with Sunrise Way cross-roads to serve the whole south end of the city. (Desert Sun Photo).

Midair Blast Blamed for Death of 99

GALWAY, IRELAND — (UPI) — The chief medical officer of the Dutch KLM Airline said today autopsies indicated that the 99 persons killed in Thursday's crash of a New York-bound airliner were dead before the plane plunged into the Atlantic.

Dr. K. Van Diager said examination of the bodies of some of the victims showed each had suffered "brain bleeding."

He said this "indicated that all the people were dead before the impact" of the plane on the stormy sea.

Dr. Van Diager said there were no signs of burns on the bodies examined, and that other external injury marks on the bodies came after death.

DUTCH AND IRISH doctors performed autopsies on the bodies of 34 victims before an inquest was held.

Coroner Michael J. Allen had the task of trying to pierce the mystery shrouding the exact fate of the Dutch airliner.

None of the bodies recovered from the sea has been identified so far. A spokesman for KLM said a concerted effort to identify the victims will be made after the inquest.

The best information now available suggests that the big airliner may have exploded and burned before plunging into the sea.

Dutch airline spokesmen dismissed the idea of sabotage as a cause of the crash, but aviation sources persisted in the theory that some sort of explosion wrecked the big KLM Super-Constellation.

They pointed out that the plane appeared to have disintegrated in midair — an occurrence which is extremely unlikely in any ordinary sort of accident.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Interior and desert regions: Variable cloudiness today through Sunday with a few scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers. Locally warmer in higher deserts today. High temperature today from 98 to 108.

Yesterday's high 105; low, 82.

Board to Hear 7 Desert Items

Reports on Highway 111 and request for more Cathedral City police protection head a list of seven desert area items posted for the Board of Supervisors' agenda Monday.

Supervisors will hear a report on a telegram concerning Highway 111, sent by district highway engineer C. V. Kane.

The board will also consider a request for more police protection in Cathedral City.

Other desert items include recommendations for an extension of agreement on Hot Springs Ranchos, Unit Two; approval of maps for West Palm Springs Village,

Skyscraper Rocket Ready To Take Shot at Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — (UPI) — An immensely tall rocket with a knobby contrivance on top stood gaunt in an Air Force tower on Cape Canaveral today. It apparently was ready for a widely anticipated "shoot for the moon" Sunday.

The Air Force and Defense Department still would not confirm that the big test, marking man's first uncertain leap to bridge the chasm between the planets, was imminent.

The maximum goal of the test is to orbit an instrumented satellite of under 100 pounds around the moon and obtain a crude television picture of its eternally hidden "dark side."

Informed sources have noted that Sunday is the best day for such a test. If the rocketeers can't get it off then, they have the next three days when the moon still is relatively close to earth—within 230,000 miles.

Only a short period of each day will provide a celestial alignment favorable for shooting and the whole thing could be called off for another month.

All signs of a major missile launching were evident here. Activity continued far into Friday night on the Air Force service tower, its bright lights showing through a squall line that enclosed the cape. All living space in nearby motels was sold out. Whispers were circulated by "beach telegraph."

As for the kind of shot planned, the rocket standing in an extended Thor missile tower was certainly like nothing ever fired here before.

Apparently completely assembled in the last day or so, it looked to be almost 100 feet tall and towered above other missiles in position along the cape skyline.

The moon rocketeers can only hope to do a portion as well as an electronic brain did Friday in sending up a Bomarc interceptor missile against a B17 drone.

The Bomarc was fired by push-button from Kingston, N. Y., more than 1,500 miles from the launching site here. But, checked out for the first time by an all-military crew, the Bomarc exceeded its mission of a near-miss which would be enough to blow up the target with a nuclear warhead.

It scored a hit, damaging the B17. Radio crews brought the drone back under control and landed it.

Nationalists Say No Damage Done By Red Gunfire

TAIPEI (UPI)—Communist coast artillery, bombarded Kaoteng, the northernmost islet in the Matsu group, with 17 shells Friday night but failed to cause any damage, the Defense Ministry said.

The shelling was the only action reported along the 140 mile offshore front stretching from Matsu southward to Quemoy.

A delayed report said the Matsu Islands were placed under air raid alert six times during the day.

A total of 24 Communist planes were detected operating in the Matsu area but none drew near the islands, the ministry said.

Family Reunion to Bring 188 Together

OAKLAND (UPI)—What may be the nation's largest family reunion got underway here today.

The Jacuzzis, 188 strong, will meet at a 24-hour "convention" at the Colombo Club Hall after attending Mass at St. Joseph's Church in Berkeley.

CONGRESS WORKS TO SPEED ADJOURNMENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress worked desperately today to patch up an adjournment agenda with the Senate tackling its benefit-costing Social Security Bill in a Saturday session.

The Senate was meeting after a late Friday night session.

Leaders expected the bill increasing both benefits and payroll taxes for Social Security to pass the Senate with little change and be accepted by the House.

They hoped this would improve the chances of adjourning this 1958 session by midweek.

Their optimism was encouraged by agreement in the House, which recessed for the week end, to bring up on Monday the long-dormant Senate-passed Labor Reform Bill, a new housing bill, a minerals subsidy bill and the Frynpan - Arkansas water project measure. The House at the same time Friday passed its $279,500,000 bill to aid depressed areas with federal loans and grants.

But the speedup was shadowed by refusal of House leaders to join in a conference on the substitute farm bill, a key to any adjournment plans. Most legislators expected the farm stalemate to be resolved by Senate reconsideration and acceptance of the bill which was rammed through the House on Thursday.

"We've got to have a farm bill and the time has come to stop horsing around," one Senate spokesman observed.

Senators who have worked late every night the past week were plainly getting tired of each other and the delay in adjournment.

But despite their irritation and time-consuming oratory, they managed to send two big tax revision bills to the White House, pass a $3,866,000,000 supplemental money bill and return it to the House, report out a new national debt limit bill, recommend a compromise welfare - pension fund measure — and still face today's overtime session.

The day's subject for floor action, already passed by the House, would boost benefits for some 11,800,000 Social Security recipients by about 7 per cent and increase the taxes on 75 million workers.

Only slightly altered from its House form in the Senate Finance Committee, the bill still contained a public assistance section which the administration warned might bring a presidential veto.

But the major floor fight was to come over an effort by Democrats to push the benefit increase up to 10 per cent.

Say U.S. Beach Suit 'Regrettable'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Reaction was mixed today on the federal government's suit seeking an injunction and damages in land sinking at the naval shipyard in Long Beach, against the State of California and nearby 400 oil companies.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight told his Sacramento news conference that the state had done all it could to stop subsidence in the Long Beach area brought about by removal of millions of dollars worth of oil.

Other officials involved in the suit were not so neutral towards the federal action which charged that one section of the shipyard had sunk 22 feet since it was built in the early 1940s.

Arthur E. Stoddard, president of Union Pacific Railroad Co., which is one of the companies having major oil holdings in the area, labelled the action filed Friday as "regrettable."

21 KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES IN FOG

Believe Ike's Peace Plans Lost Today

Back-Stage Talks Wreck Proposals For Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Indications mounted today that backstage negotiations have pulled the teeth out of President Eisenhower's program for a Middle East settlement.

Informed sources said the resolution which Norwegian Deputy Foreign Minister Hans Engen is expected to submit to the emergency General Assembly session next week will eliminate Eisenhower's proposals for a U. N. peace force and for an effort to curb inflammatory propaganda in the Middle East.

Both these provisions had been opposed by the Arabs. It was reported that they might be reintroduced when the General Assembly begins its regular session on Sept. 16.

Informed diplomats said the principal positive proposal in the resolution being prepared by Engen would be a directive to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to make arrangements for "safeguard peace in the Middle East."

This would effectively empower Hammarskjold to visit the area and seek means of providing a substitute for Anglo-American troops — specifically in Jordan, whose threatened government has rejected the idea of protection by the proposed peace force.

Informed sources surmised that Hammarskjold, if he goes to the Middle East, would propose the creation of a U. N. commission or some similar body to oversee peace in Jordan.

The situation in Lebanon appears to be solving itself since the election of Gen. Fuad Chehab as president of the small country. U. N. observers have reported the situation quiet except for occasional acts of "brigandage" by forces of President Camille Chamoun.

The assembly session is in recess for the week end.

RIGHT TO WORK TO GET TEST IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — A bitter struggle shaped up in Ohio today as supporters and opposers of a proposed right-to-work constitutional amendment threatened to make the state "the battleground for the nation."

Election officials announced Friday that enough petition signatures have been validated to put the issue before Ohio voters in the November general election.

The petitions to put the issue on the ballot were circulated by the Ohioans for right to work. More than 80 per cent of Ohio union contract presently include union shop clauses.

Eighteen states, mostly in farming areas, have passed law against labor-management agreements requiring union membership to retain a job. This will be the first test in a major manufacturing state. Ohio is the number two industrial state in the nation.

13 Escape Death in Tragedy

NANTUCKET, Mass. — (UPI) — A New York-to-Nantucket airliner crashed in fog and burst into flames Friday night, killing 21 of the 34 aboard, including former Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Gordon E. Dean.

The Northeast Airlines Convair was filled with holiday-bound week-enders when it slammed to earth and disintegrated. Seats, bits of flaming fuselage and wheels were hurled helter-skelter into woodlands east of the airport. The biggest single part left was reported to be one engine.

The body of Dean, a week-end "vacation commuter," was identified by his wife.

A BABY, 2-year-old Cindy Lon Young, was hurled alive from the wreckage, but her mother was killed. The baby was among 13 persons hospitalized.

A mid flaming wreckage, strewn about pine woods near Nantucket Airport, year-round residents and summer vacationers risked death when fire neared gasoline tanks to carry survivors to safety.

Joe Indio, editor of a Nantucket weekly, said the first fire alarms sent hundreds rushing to the scene. When he got there, Indio said, huge chunks of the plane were still burning. It looked, he said, as if the plane had just plummeted down.

More Thousands Idled Today by Truckers' Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A strike-lockout paralysis of truck transportation threw more thousands out of work throughout the West today, but another Teamsters union dispute that threatened food supplies was cut short.

Sixteen transcontinental trucking firms and several hundred other motor carriers completed deliveries of goods in transit, parked their rigs and laid off employees in the 11-state employer lockout. Total unemployment caused by the work stoppage was estimated at nearly 100,000.

However, a separate strike by Teamsters against several food chains in northern California ended this morning 24 hours after it began. A management spokesman said agreement was reached shortly before midnight on a new contract.

Another strike by Teamsters in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., closed chain grocery stores and threatened to shut down independent food markets. The strike began 11 days ago and was caused by a wage dispute.

Federal mediators were attempting to get the two sides together in the big western states strike-lockout which by today had put clamps on almost all truck freight west of the Rockies.

Cleo Continues Erratic Course Across Atlantic

MIAMI — (UPI) — Hurricane Cleo, with top winds of 115 miles an hour, drifted erratically northward today on a general course which forecasters said it would probably maintain through most of the morning.

Cleo, which moved west-northwest most of Friday, made a gradual shift to the north. A reconnaissance plane pinpointed the center near latitude 19.4 north, longitude 50.1 west, or about 1,000 miles east-northeast of Puerto Rico at 11 p. m. It was also about 2,000 miles east-southeast of both Miami and Cape Hatteras.

Cleo, the first hurricane of the season, reduced in velocity from 145 to 115 miles per hour Friday. But the San Juan weather bureau emphasized that "this is a severe hurricane."

Miami forecaster Gilbert Clark said Cleo's path made it difficult to assign it to any definite direction. "It has strayed from its previous west-northwest course and is now moving in a general northern direction," Clark said. He added that there were indications that it would remain on the same rough course "for some time."

Cleo was the first hurricane of the season but the third tropical storm. Neither of its two predecessors, Alma and Becky, developed into more than severe storms.

IT WAS THE SECOND crash of a Northeast Airlines plane in southeastern Massachusetts in 11 months. A fog-delayed airliner crashed Sept. 15, 1957 at New Bedford, killing 12 and injuring 12 others.

Besides Dean, the dead in Friday's crash, included the pilot, Capt. John Burnham of Marshfield, Mass., a veteran of eight years of service, and his co-pilot, David Carey of Nantucket.

The stewardess, Eileen Dabek, 25, of Manchester, N. H., also was killed. She had been flying only since January.

From the sky before dawn the scene was eerie. Jagged streaks of lightning and pouring rain added a gloom to tragedy. From the air, emergency lights could be spotted ringing the area.

By 4 a. m. e. d. t. all the fires were out.

Cabazon Recall Petition Probe Sought Today

CABAZON — Cabazon City Clerk Mary Lou Fields has called on the district attorney to investigate signatures on a recall petition aimed at the mayor and two city councilmen.

Mrs. Fields charged that some of the signatures on the petition were apparently fraudulent, but recall proponents claim—"there is nothing wrong with the petition."

The petition, promoted by the Cabazon Improvement Association, asked for recall action against Mayor L. Dee Tallent and Councilmen H. O. Hicks and Ian Smith.

Tallent has charged that at least 77 names affixed to the petition were improperly presented and, he claimed, many signatures were not those of Cabazon residents.

Senate Committee Okays Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Agriculture Committee reversed itself today under adjournment pressures and voted to recommend Senate approval of the House farm bill.

Kathy and Son to Quit Hospital Today

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Bing Crosby's young wife, Kathy, and their new son, Harry Lillis Crosby III, will leave Queen of Angels Hospital today, a spokesman for Crosby said.

Newest U.S. Sub Takes to Water

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. — (UPI) — The sleek, swift submarine Sea Dragon, said to be a better sub than the polar-voyaging Nautilus, was launched today at the naval shipyard here.

Powered by an atomic reactor plant and having "missile guidance capabilities," the 268-foot, twin-screws undersea craft is an attack submarine of the Skate class, the fourth built.

Mrs. Robert L. Dennison, Coronado, Calif., wife of Vice Adm. Dennison, commander of the 1st fleet, christened the sub. Principal speaker at the brief ceremonies was Rear Adm. Frederick B. Warder, commander of the sub force of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet.

Conspicuous by his absence was Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, generally considered the "father" of the atomic submarine. Rickover has said the Sea Dragon is a better sub than the Nautilus, but has refused to compare the two on specific points.

"You may be able to determine that one woman is better looking than another, but you can't put a percentage on it," he said.

"Any ship is obsolete as soon as it's built — everybody knows that. The reason is that you are always incorporating improvements, and as soon as you have a ship completed, you have one nearly completed that is better."

Rickover spun an invitation to attend both the Sea Dragon and Triton launchings.

Earlier this week, Mrs. Rickover was quoted as being miffed that she was not asked by the Navy to christen the Triton.

The General Dynamics Corp., builders of the Triton, had urged the Navy Department to turn the honor over to Mrs. Rickover.

RUSSIA TO HAVE ATOM SUB SOON SAYS EXPERT

LONDON — (UPI) — One of the world's best informed naval authorities said today that the Russians will have an atomic submarine soon if they do not already have one.

The expert, who asked that he not be identified, said the Russians have had an atomic submarine under development for some time.

"It is a mistake to underestimate the Russians in navy design or imagination," he said. "Anything we can do, they can do." The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star hinted Friday that Russian submarines are capable of matching the epic under-the-North-Pole voyage of the American atomic-powered submarine Nautilus.

Red Star, referring to the Nautilus voyage, said "naturally such a trip presents no problems with the present development of science and technology generally, and ship construction in particular."

Observers said this is about as close as the Russians have come to hinting they have, or expect to have soon, an atomic submarine.

All Salton City Shopping Center Property Sold

All property on the site of the proposed shopping center of Salton City on the Salton River has now been sold, according to a spokesman for the M. Penn Phillips Company, developers of Salton River.

"This is a complete departure from the usual procedure," Joe Karbo, Vice-President in charge of sales for the company declared. "The shopping center is considered the cream of the property — most profitable for investment — and is not generally released for sale until most of a development is sold. In fact, it is common practice for many developers to hold out this property for their own purposes. However, in fairness to the public, we have offered the choice business lots on a first-come, first-served basis — and they sold almost instantly."

Plans call for a complete shopping center to include food shops, markets, restaurants, confectionery shops, gift, clothing and novelty shops, as well as all the many other miscellaneous stores necessary to serve a rapidly-growing community.

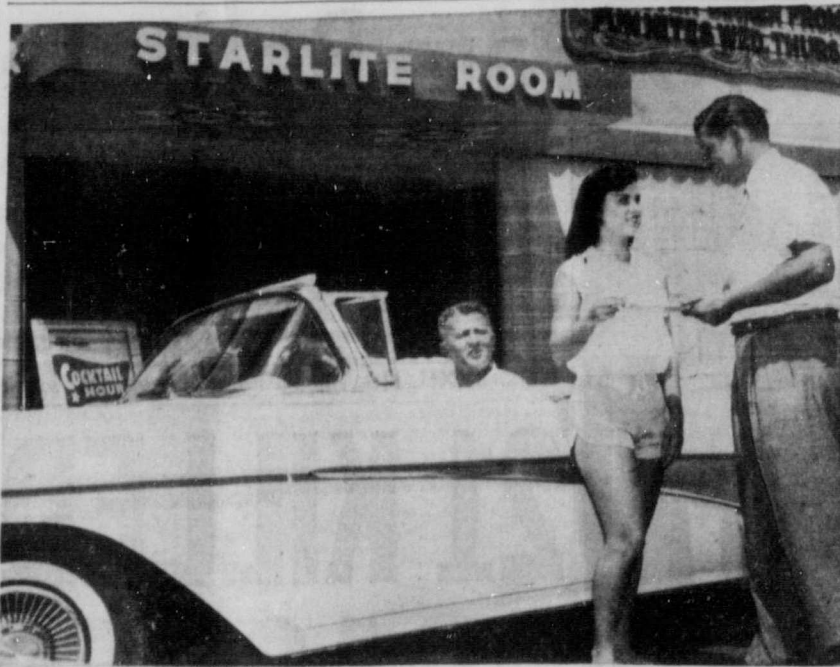

Minimum building requirements have been established to create an effect as harmonious and attractive as it is convenient. It is hoped that most builders will conform to desert architecture.

Snakes Should Keep Far Away From Mrs. Mims

Mrs. Myrtle Mims, long time resident of Palm Springs and employee for many years at the Desert Inn, can now be known as an experienced rattlesnake exterminator.

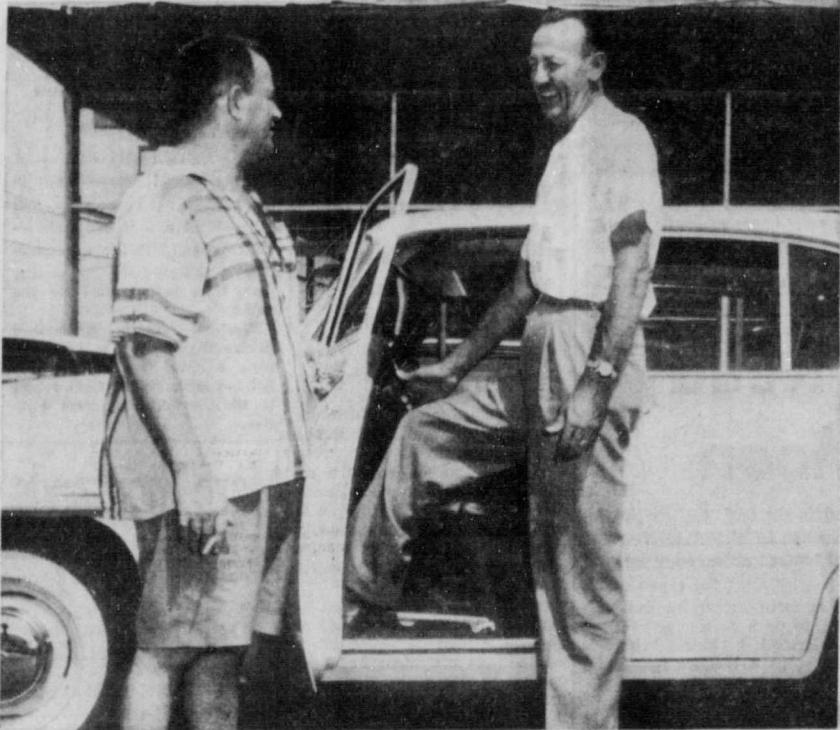

Early this week while visiting at the home of Clem Granger at Yucca, she managed to kill two rattlesnakes before breakfast, a feat which would usually make most people turn and flee.

Mrs. Granger noticed the first snake in the yard of the home and drew Mrs. Mims attention to it. She grabbed a shovel and there was no fight. Within only minutes, a second snake entered the scene, only to meet with the same fate.

McGinley, Palm Springs distributor for Bel Air Engineering Company, says there's plenty of room in this pint-sized vehicle for his lanky frame. The four-cylinder Japanese-made car is now exclusively distributed in the desert area by Palm Springs Lincoln Mercury. Boasting a top speed of about 70 miles an hour, the sturdy car weighs in at a surprising 2,700 pounds and cranks out at least 33 miles to the gallon of gas, says dealer Al Sirrot. TOMORROW'S LUNAR SHOT NOT AIMED AT MOON, JUST TESTING

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Air Force's lunar probe shot scheduled for Sunday is not specifically intended to hit the moon, orbit it or even loop once around the far side, it was pointed out today.

Instead, the primary aim of the first shot "is to achieve successful firing of all three stages of the vehicle." If this occurs, then it is hoped the vehicle will travel to somewhere "in the vicinity of the moon."

The precise nature of the first probe mission has been the subject of much speculation—it could impact on the moon, go into an orbit around it for a while or "boomarang" around its never-seen far side.

But sources close to the project, while stating any of these things could happen, declare the Air Force is not primarily concerned with any of them and that on the first attempt any of them would be considered "icing on the cake."

Reaching the vicinity of the moon, even within 50,000 miles,

Coast Storm Fatal to Five In L.A. Area

Heaviest August
Rain in 69 Years
Hits Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles, usually rainless during the summer, was hit by its heaviest August downpour in 69 years Friday.

The deaths of five persons were attributed to thunder showers which dumped .38 inches of rain in Los Angeles and up to three to five inches in the Barstow-Daggett desert area.

Three deaths resulted from traffic accidents caused by slippery streets and a man and a woman were killed when a lightning bolt struck their small private plane.

Dalton J. Baker, of National City, and Mrs. Mabel Bollinger Bever, 40, of Chula Vista, were killed when their plane plunged to earth near suburban Anaheim.

High temperature in Los Angeles was only 82 but smog coupled with an overcast sky and high humidity caused more than one Angeleno to rile against the weather.

National Guard Training Site Sought on Desert

Congressman D. S. Saund announced today that the Department of Defense has applied for the withdrawal of Section 6 (640 acres) three miles north of Indio for use by the California National Guard as a training site for national defense purposes.

He said Corps of Engineers headquarters informed him that the site will be used for multiple-drill facilities for 2,675 Guard personnel from Banning, Brawley, Calexico, Corona, El Centro, Hemet, Holtville and Riverside in the 29th Congressional District and Colton, Fontana, Ontario, Pomona, Redlands and San Bernardino in San Bernardino County.

For a period of 30 days, objections may be presented to Rolla E. Chandler, officer-in-charge of the Southern Field Group, Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, in Los Angeles. That office will hold a public hearing if circumstances warrant.

Parking Meter Holiday Ends In Two Weeks, Reminder

The parking meter holiday's almost over for Palm Springs motorists.

City Treasurer Shelby Langford warned that some 354 meters will go back into operation throughout the Village Sept. 1. This includes 23 new meters at the new municipal parking lot behind the Oasis Building.

Langford said that most of the city parking meters have been inoperative during the summer months. Only meters in operation are those in the central shopping area.

But all areas will be "meterized" come Sept. 1, Langford warned, cautioning motorists to get back in the habit of carrying meter change.

Memberships in Opera Guild Open to Aug. 29

Charter members in the newly-formed Riverside - San Bernardino Counties Opera Guild, an organization of opera fans who want to promote more interest in grand opera in this area, will be accepted until Friday, Aug. 29, according to Redlands' Mrs. Lloyd Hubert, membership chairman.

First event in the Guild season will come Tuesday, Oct. 7, at 8:15 p.m. in the Riverside Mission Inn Gardens Hotel, with Dr. Jan Popper presenting "Accent on Opera."

Prospective members should make application to Mrs. Hubert, 503 E. Mariposa Dr., Redlands; or to Gwendolyn Roberts, Guild secretary, 1808 Genevieve St., San Bernardino; or to Rodolfo Rubial Sr., treasurer, 5649 Durango Rd., Riverside.

ANTI-COMMUNISTS RAID HUNGARIAN LEGATION

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — Two anti-Communists invaded the Hungarian Legation here today and shot it out for 90 minutes with armed Communist diplomats until trapped by Swiss police.

One of the attackers was shot in the head by a Hungarian diplomat during the fight. The two surrendered when besieging Swiss police threatened to open up against them with tear gas.

The attack was reminiscent of that carried out by anti-Red Romanian refugees on the Communist Romanian Legation in Bern three years ago. The Romanian refugees held out against Swiss police for two days.

The two anti-Communists slipped into the legation around 10 a.m. A short time later passers-by reported to police they could hear the sound of shooting echoing inside the Communist diplomatic outpost.

The battle waged on inside the building for some time. Finally Minister Jozsef Marjai waived diplomatic immunity and sent a frantic appeal for help to Swiss police.

Officers armed with teargas and tommyguns closed in on the building. The two men holed up behind a locked door of a strong-room and prepared to battle it out to the bitter end.

However, one had been wounded and the threat of tear gas bombs were too much. Shortly after 11:45 a.m. troopers brought the two men out, one in state of collapse from his wounds.

The shooting kept on for more than half an hour before the Hungarians appealed to Swiss police.

Verna Wilson Religious Science Speaker Sunday

Guest speaker this week for the Church of Religious Science is Verna Wilson, newly graduated Fellow of Religious Science, whose additional preparation for the Ministry includes two years of Philosophy under Dr. Frederick Mayer of Redlands University.

MISS WILSON speaks on the subject: "Discovering the Best in People." Those who read the Science of Mind Magazine will recall having read an article by Verna Wilson in the July issue. She is rounding out her experience in several fields of preparation prior to the assuming of a Ministerial assignment on a permanent basis. During the absence of Minister Lillian Caldwell, who is attending the annual Seminar of the Church of Religious Science at Asilomar, the mid-week meeting on Wednesday night at eight is in the charge of Mr. A. W. Langlois. Mr. Okie Myers serves as official organization host at the Sunday morning services. Rev. Caldwell will again be in the pulpit next week.

Christian Science Topic 'Soul' Sunday

"Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified." This verse from Psalms is the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

IN A SELECTION to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy states, "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul. Higher enjoyments alone can satisfy the cravings of immortal man. We cannot circumscribe happiness within the limits of personal sense" (p. 60).

This passage correlates Jesus' words as recorded in the Gospel of Luke (12:31,32), "But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

Back to School Sale Under Way At Thrifty Today

"Around the World and Back to School" is the exciting theme of Thrifty Drug Stores' giant Back to School Sale that is currently being held in all of the California drug chain's stores.

In bringing the customer the greatest variety of merchandise of any store of its type, Thrifty buyers seek the world over for bargains that mean extra savings to every customer. And what better time is there in the entire year to save on top quality merchandise than that pre-school buying for the students in the family.

In the apparel department, Thrifty is offering complete stocks of girl's blouses, cardigan sweaters, socks, costume jewelry, and a host of other items. For that boy student, there are sweat-shirts, T-shirts, suspenders, socks, belts, sport shirts, jeans, and so many more. Take advantage now of these dress-up opportunities at Thrifty's traditional low prices. School means packing lunches and Thrifty has a great variety of lunch pails, thermoses and other accessories. School also means studying and Thrifty has all the study aids: binders, paper of all sizes and shapes, pen and pencil sets, desk lamps, dictionaries, typewriter tables, globe maps of the world, erasers, mullage glue; the list is endless.

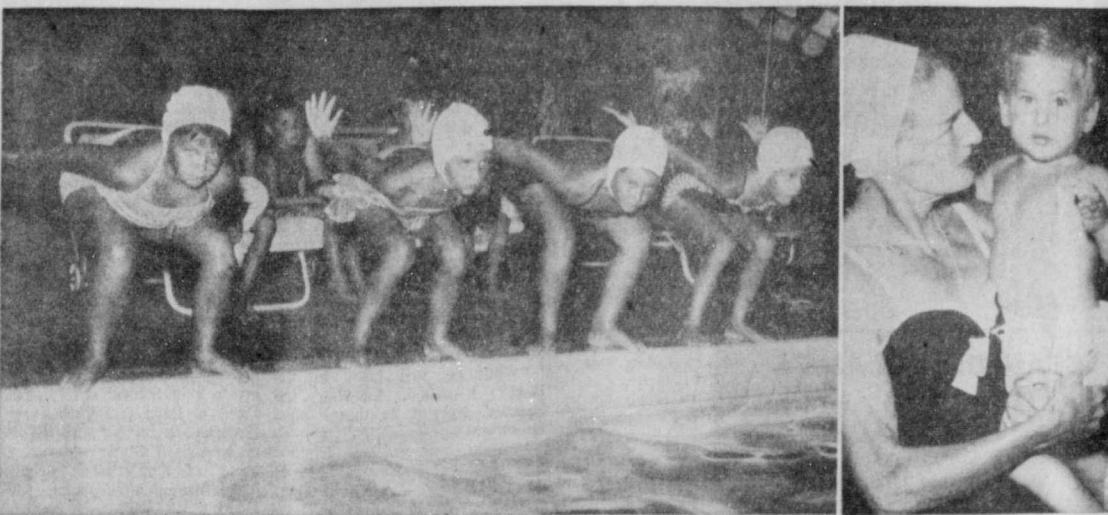

For these schooltime leisure hours, Thrifty's sporting goods department is the place to buy footballs, basketballs, sweatshirts and other equipment. For the angler in the family, there is a tremendous variety of fishing equipment that will satisfy any desire and budget. It costs so little at Thrifty to make studying a pleasant task.

Omar Kulp Visiting At Home of Parents

CATHEDRAL CITY — Omar Kulp, son of Mrs. Arthur Cecchi, is enjoying a desert visit at the home of his parents on Charlesworth Way. He arrived last week by plane from Pottstown, Penn. where he is living with his grandparents until he finished high school next year. He plans on being here about a month.

Don't Drive if Tired, Warning Of CHP Chief

SACRAMENTO — Fatigue and sleepiness have no place in the operation of a motor vehicle on our streets and highways warns the California Highway Patrol.

"During 1957, we recorded 179 fatal accidents and 2,958 injury accidents in California charged to drivers asleep or fatigued," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell stated. "Many of these were the result of drivers on vacation or business trips trying to cover too many miles each day."

"Passenger car drivers would do well to pattern their driving hours after those required for commercial drivers," Caldwell emphasized. "Section 602 of the Vehicle Code requires that no driver shall drive upon any highway any vehicle designed or used for transporting persons for compensation for more than ten consecutive hours nor more than ten hours spread over a total of 15 consecutive hours."

"Thereafter, such person shall not drive any such vehicle until eight consecutive hours have elapsed," he continued. "Drivers who begin to feel sleepy or tired should stop, get out of the vehicle and stretch, walking around a few minutes, even taking a short nap if possible, to prevent the dangerous effects of fatigue and sleep."

Factory Employment Rises in California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Factory employment in California increased by 19,900 last month but was still 81,300 jobs below July, 1957, the Department of Industrial Relations reported today.

Communist China Designs in Middle East

On our most recent coverage of Quemoy, Formosa and Hong Kong we were invited, at the personal suggestion of President Chiang Kai-shek, to interview three Chinese escapees from the Chinese mainland to Quemoy.

Through the cooperation of the publisher of the Chi Yin Daily, Hong Kong's Chinese language newspaper, which runs "After Hours," we had several lengthy sessions with two Chinese reporters who escaped from Shanghai.

WE REPEATED the process with a former communist government clerk from Canton who escaped to Macao.

These most recent sessions with escapees culminate many other exclusive interviews with former mainland Chinese who escape constantly either by sea, or through the Red borders at Lo Wu, or Macao.

From all these sources our private notes made on the spot indicate that Red China has obvious policy designs on the Middle East, with or without joint effort with the Soviet Union.

MY INFORMERS revealed that for over a year Communist General Yuan Shengping, commander of the Peiping communist army, has been organizing a Red Chinese "volunteer" army in Peiping for exclusive Middle East duty.

In recent months Chinese language broadcasts beamed to Hong Kong and Formosa have been offering inducements to overseas Chinese to return to the mainland for service "among the rich lands of the Middle East," with fantastic material rewards for those who join up.

THIS MAY BE a method to trick overseas Chinese to return to the mainland... or an indication that "volunteers" are not responding inside Red China for duty in the Middle East. However, the Red propaganda is pouring all over the Far East.

All of these escapees interviewed agreed on the stepped-up effort of both General Yuan and Foreign Minister Chen Yi, with the blessing of the communist government, to recruit unlimited "volunteer" manpower to be sent to the Middle East to "crush the American and British interventionists."

AS LATE AS LAST week Chen Yi was heard over Radio Peiping broadcasting to Hong Kong proclaiming: "We would not stand idly by with folded arms if the U.S. and Britain were not to cease their acts of aggression in the Middle East."

He boasted that: "A Chinese army of a million 'volunteers' recently withdrawn from North Korea, were ready to leave on a minute's notice and another million will be available shortly to crush the imperialists who invaded Lebanon and Jordan."

Fantastic as it may seem, Red China either independently, or with Soviet consent, is making feverish preparations toward the Middle East, either through a phony volunteer force, or infiltration.

This Red Chinese threat, sweeping down from Sinkiang to the Middle East, will be like the other end of a pincer forming on the Soviet-Iraq frontier to the Black Sea.

THESE AREAS ARE SO remote and inaccessible that it is almost beyond the reach of U.S. aid, should we be called upon to prevent any communist aggression.

It appears obvious that communism is working around the clock in every conceivable area of the world to keep us off balance, and in the process hoping to either bankrupt us by the fantastic cost of helping all who seek our aid against communism... or to generate such distrust and indifference inside the U.S. that isolationism will be revived to plunge us all over again in another generation.

Two Democratic Viewpoints

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Two voices speak the Democratic party's position on foreign affairs. One is that of Senator Mike Mansfield of Montana. The other belongs to Senator James William Fulbright of Arkansas. In a way, the men are in contrast to each other. But in a bigger way, they are complementary.

Both Senators, while not imposing of physique, are large in intellect and political importance. Both are members of the Foreign Relations Committee; both have academic background — Mansfield was formerly a college professor, Fulbright a State University President. The Westerner is modest, friendly and full of human kindness; the Southerner is lofty, withdrawn and not overladen with bonhomie. The man from Montana can see good in any man. The man from Arkansas can see no good in many.

The outlook of these two men upon foreign affairs corresponds with their outlooks on life. Mansfield likes to travel and meet all sorts of persons abroad, from the rulers to the overseas G.I.s. He takes off nearly every Congressional recess (but not when we are for reelection, as now), and heads for the troubled places of earth. When he returns, he writes a report that is tight-packed with fact and close observations. He makes a series of speeches which summarize his findings and set forth his recommendations. Since he is a democrat in the lower-case sense of the word, and a practicing Christian, Mansfield puts his love of humanity and his tolerance of its foibles into everything he writes or says. Although a Democrat in the political sense, he is incapable of disliking Republicans, as such, and I think he has never brought an ounce of partisanship into his discussion of foreign policy.

Fulbright is the opposite in almost every quality. In newspaper parlance, he would be called the ivory tower writer, while Mansfield is the shoelather reporter. But it takes all kinds. Nobody should disparage this more sedentary trait of fact finding. Fulbright has a brain which supplies him with an enviable gift of insight. He addresses this cerebral x-ray machine to a subject. Pretty soon the too, too solid flesh melts away, and the internal impurities become visible, the defects of the bony structure are discernible.

More than any man in Washington, Fulbright foresaw and forewarned us about the collapse of our Middle East policy. He prophesied that our materialistic approach to the Arabian peoples would never harmonize with their mystic ways. He predicted that we would rue the day we tried to get our way with Nasser by teasing him with on-again-off-again visions of an Aswan dam. Fulbright said that our sword-rattling in the Eisenhower Doctrine and Baghdad Pact would cost us friends and gain us no useful allies. He gave Secretary Dulles a public chewing-out such as a Secretary never got from a Senator even when Joe McCarthy was around.

Fulbright is a pessimist, a misanthrope and a partisan Democrat, and it is a good thing for the country that he is. We very much need a report on world affairs from a superior mind with an individualistic bias. I have known a few philosophers, and read a few more, and I never found one who thought life was a bowl of cherries or who cared as much for persons as for ideas.

Fulbright's latest Senate address was like a number of others he has made. It was black as the pit with pessimism. It curled a cultivated lip at the stupidities of men in public life. It said many contemptuous things about "us" and "this nation" which "wallowed" and "loafed" and "made excuses" for "losing" and for being such a "failure." It largely blamed the Eisenhower Administration and the Republican party for the fix we are in.

But at the end of the typically Fulbrightian fulmination, the Senator did something I have never known him to do before. He rose above himself with this remark: "Some difficulties in human affairs are insoluble. If this proves to be the case in our present situation, we had better begin to search for ways and means of accommodating ourselves to that fact."

There, it appears to me, is the ultimate wisdom. It is a world we never made. It is a world which we never committed to change. It is a world in which we, as persons and nations, must learn to live with grace and to let live with tolerance.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady for six months and my boyfriend's religion doesn't permit him to go to movies or to dances. There is nothing much for us to do except to sit out in a car and neck. I like him a lot but this is getting dangerous. What should I do? AFRAID

DEAR ABBY: Get together with other couples and play cards (you don't have to dance, even if they do), play scrabble, watch TV, engage in sports (swimming, tennis, bowling) picnic with others. Too much alone-ness is dangerous indeed and you are smart to know it.

DEAR ABBY: I need your help on a subject concerning my husband. He is getting bald but he refuses to do anything about it. I say he should get a hair piece and cover up his head as he isn't even thirty yet and he is too young to be bald. He is very stubborn and says if he is going to be bald he will take it like a man and he doesn't care how it looks. I think just to spite me he brushes his hair more than he has to and harder than usual just to make it fall out. Please help me to convince him that he needs his head covered.

HATING BALDNESS
DEAR ABBY: If he is getting bald, he is wise to accept it. The only way you'll sell him a hair piece is to show him someone on whom it looks so real he could never believe it.

DEAR ABBY: I am in search of feminine companionship. I'd like a good-looking, clean girl between 20 and 35 who is interested in some fun on week-ends and holidays. No chance for marriage. I've had it. Thanks.

DEAR AL: Where do you think you are going to find a CLEAN, GOOD-LOOKING GIRL who would go for a deal like this? Sorry, Friend, you are barking (and I did say barking) up the wrong tree.

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a boy who has money. His birthday comes before mine. I am afraid if I give him a gift he will think I am doing it just so he will give me one. I hate to let his birthday go by without giving him anything, but I don't want him to get the wrong idea. Please help me.

NOT HINTING
DEAR NOT: Send him a telegram or mail him a birthday card.

DEAR ABBY: I am getting engaged next month. My fiancé can't afford a diamond so he is buying me a pearl ring. My mother refuses to give an engagement party for me unless I get a diamond because she says if I don't get a diamond it will look like I gave the party only for the presents. She says I should insist on a diamond because an engagement without a diamond is no engagement.

Please give me your opinion, Abby.
TO BE ENGAGED
DEAR TO BE: A pearl, a fraternity pin or a simple reply in the affirmative to a proposal of marriage constitutes an engagement. A girl who insists on a rock for her finger, has rocks in her head.

DEAR ABBY: I have a boyfriend who wants to grow a "Vandyke" beard. I am very much against this idea. He claims it will aid him in his profession as it will make him look older. As far as I am concerned, I think he should consider my feelings in the matter since he is supposed to love me. Which should come first, his love or his profession?

FUTURE DELILAH
DEAR FUTURE: Van Buren is also against the Vandyke. Tell him it scratches — and if that doesn't help — scratch HIM till he grows up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WALLY:
A woman's tears have been known to generate more power than Niagara Falls. Don't fall for it!

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookstore to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Prisoner of Crises

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Times marches on and it won't be long before we hear that September song.

Just a note to cheer you up. It may seem a bit on the warm side now—but think, every time the sun sets, we are a day nearer to that delectable Fall, Winter and Spring Climate.

Remember, there's a silver lining to every cloud even if the darn things just hang around the horizon all day and don't do a thing except boost the humidity.

SO MANY PEOPLE are edgy these days. Good friends snap at each other over their Cokes and hamburgers.

Papa walks around on tiptoe and the kids know better than to be little monsters. It isn't the heat that's getting them down and I don't think it's the humidity.

So let's revive an old gag. It isn't the heat—it's the humanity.

BECAUSE I GO around making a big bore of myself, bragging about the desert, people less fortunate than I am who have to live elsewhere, always try to take me down a peg.

"Must be awful living in the desert with all of that heat and the rattlesnakes," they say.

But I want to say that in 17 years of living on the desert more than ten months each year, I have only seen one rattlesnake.

And that was on a curb in Beverly Hills where I once spent a vacation.

WHAT BROUGHT this up was a communication from Johnny Adkins of 473 Avenida Olancha.

Mr. Adkins wrote that he and his wife took a little jaunt up and down the coast and while in San Diego decided to visit the Zoo. Where he saw plenty of snakes.

They also rode the outside elevator on El Cortez hotel. That seemed to get them, according to his letter.

FOR ON THEIR WAY back to Palm Springs they stopped at Del Mar.

And in the fifth race, Mr. Adkins thought he had a hot one and went up to the window.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

I think it was one of those "How to Raise Your Child" books where I read:

"Everything your child does has a motive." At dawn this morning, the 2-year-old boy rose quietly and squeezed a full tube of green ointment into his hair. It is a peculiar chemical that will not wash out. His head looks like a growing lawn.

I HAVE LOOKED into his motives but can find no dark spots on his psyche.

The way I figure his motives is like this: When you get a tube and there are no grownups around, SQUEEZE IT!

He put it in his hair as an afterthought. I am glad he did not eat it.

IF YOU HAVE a well-cared-for ax and a few ladies around the house, that ax will show up eventually, dull and rusty as an after-dinner speech.

Not only that. Every female within sight will screech that SHE never touches that ax. It is a male instrument. Never used by ladies.

WHY, THEN IS the blade chipped? And why does the head fly off the handle? One of life's mysteries, gentlemen.

I have noticed that tools disappear in this order: First the hammer is gone. Next the screwdriver evaporates.

One day you hear a banging in the living room. You peek through the window. The lady is hanging pictures. With the ax.

"I can't find the hammer," she says logically. Bang! Bang!

THE HAMMER IS on the top shelf of the closet. The ladies used it one day to fix a shoe. The screwdriver is on a canned goods shelf. It seems one day the can opener was lost and we tried to open the can with—

You ask me how the ax blade got chipped? Well, the dresser drawer stuck and we pried it open.

The ax was then slung out under a wet tree to rust. Everybody denies this.

WHAT IS the matter with you? It happens ten times a day. But the lady is covered with delicate confusion. So delicate she can only stand there while everybody goes under the couch for the lipstick.

Yet she can hang pictures with an ax. Isn't that amazing?

EARL WILSON:

A Heap 'O Livin'

BEL-AIR, Cal. — "How big is this place?" I exclaimed to Mrs. Pat Boone, who's also known as Shirley.

Shirley, the daughter of hillbilly singer Red Foley, was taking me on a tour of the mansion, "The Villa Piedmont," which she and Pat have rented in this beautiful and aristocratic community just beyond Beverly Hills.

"Well, the other night we slept 19," she said.

Shirley looked off in the shiny distance. "That's Conrad Hilton's 62-room house over there. We've been told that his is bigger but that ours is nicer."

The amazing thing was that Pat and Shirley, two kids in their twenties, should be able to afford this marble palace which reportedly cost producer Sol M. Wurtzel $300,000 when he built it.

"On a clear day we may be able to see Marilyn Monroe sunbathing over at the Bel-Air Hotel," Pat says.

"We missed meeting her at Louella's party," Shirley remarked. "We left the party to go to church. When we came back to the party, Marilyn had been there and left."

It's due to TV, and records and movies, that Pat, who only five years ago was an unknown ministerial student in Texas, can now splurge like this.

"We felt as long as we're going to splurge we might as well have a cook, too," Shirley said.

Pat, busy making the movie, "Mardi Gras," at 20th Century-Fox, before resuming his TV show from New York in the fall, lets Shirley run things at the mansion.

"What do you keep in the bar?" I asked, knowing the Boones' aversion to things alcoholic.

"Potato chips and soft drinks—and the hi-fi," Shirley said. "And don't say 'bar' — we have TWO bars!"

The Boones began collecting house guests as soon as they got the house. They invited Carmel Quinn and her husband, Bill Fuller, and their daughter, Jane, who's 4; Ed Carlton and his wife and their two children—"They're our neighbors right across the street in Leonia, N. J." — and also Lt. Don Henley from Fort Benning, Ga.

"Don's a real good friend of Pat's and mine from David Lipscomb High School in Nashville," Shirley explained.

"Did you see all the chicken wire around the marble balconies?" Pat asked me. "To keep the kids from falling off."

Cheryl Boone, oldest of the four daughters, especially enjoys the concert grand piano.

"We've never had one," Mrs. Boone explained. "She puts the Los Angeles phone book on the music rack and pretends she's playing that. She's playing 'Crestview 2-2300.'"

There's a swimming pool, a jungle path, and a garden on the two acres.

"Lucky for us that our bedroom window is closed permanently or Pat would jump down into the pool," Shirley said.

"Then I'd have to jump in too," she added. "Here," she said, opening another door, "is the chauffeur's room — and no chauffeur."

The one thing that was disturbing in all this idyll was Pat's schedule. He'd been out with Shirley and some of the house guests until 3 a.m., had been up shooting at 7, and faced a session of TV commercials at 5 p.m., and a recording session that might go far into the night, without any break.

"Tell my husband," she said, as I left to meet him in the studio, "that I'll probably see him next week."

Rawhide Roars Off Sept. 29

HOLLYWOOD — Rawhide roars off in its new one-hour groove (Mondays at 7:30 p.m.) Sept. 29 with a rip-roarin' roster of guests. Names who'll be visiting Clint Eastwood in various segments of the brand new galloper include Margaret O'Brien, Martha Hyer, Marguerite Chapman, Brian Donlevy and Dan Duryea.

Pontiac's fall CBSpecs will be star-studded too: Mary Martin, Perry Como, Victor Borge and Phil Silvers are already contracted to clobber your ears with You-Auto-Buy-Now pitches.

TALK ABOUT TYPE-casting—Kasey Rogers finished the role of the dance-hall queen in a United Artists Western movie, "The Bat Masterson Story" (starring Joel McCrea as Bat) and got the same part in the new Bat Masterson teleseries (starring Gene Barry as Bat).

Sunset & Sex. Producer Eddie Buzzell is prepping a new kind of western series titled Beasts and Saddles—about the derring-do don'ts that take place on a dude ranch... Mort Sahl spouting: "Pep pills? Me? Sure I take them—they don't help my acting but they make me a lot of fun to be WITH!"

JOAN CAULFIELD, trying to revive her old Favorite Husband TV strip on her own, has been turning down sloop-type acting assignments in the interval on grounds that the public is "sick and tired of actresses who win Oscars and Emmys for looking and acting like slob."

Says Joan: "I think acting today consists of how messy you can be. I think the public is ready for attractive, well-groomed people in smart comedies and dramas. I think there's room for the Lynn Fontaine and the Claudette Colberts—the 'tag-like' actresses, if you will." Joan's ex-teleshusband, Barry Nelson, nipped in from New York for a one-shot in "The Waxwork" for Alfred Hitchcock Presents.

PRETTY PAT POWELL twisted Twentieth-Fox's arm and got them to let her do all the outside TV work she wants—first being a co-star s't with Joan Fontaine in "Before" on Schlitz Playhouse.

Sal Mineo shot 2,000 feet of 16-millimeter film while making "Tonka" for Walt Disney in Oregon, with the idea of bearing the footage on ABC-TV's Disneyland. In which case the screen credit will read: "Sal Mineo, Producer-Director."

THE HITCHCOCK hierarchy tried to jot John Smith as the villain in their "Crooked Road" segment but the producers of John's new Cimarron City series refused to loan him out. Reason: "He's the hero of our show—emoting as a menace on yours would hurt his identity."

Playhouse 90's first of the season, Sept. 25, sounds promising on paper. It's titled "The Plot to Kill Stalin," with E. G. Marshall as Beria, Luther Adler as Motolov and Thomas Gomez as Malenkov. Harrison Salisbury, the New York Times correspondent in Moscow, is technical advisor.

ABC-TV BREAKS through the film barrier for the upcoming fall season with three live strip shows from Hollywood—all in the nature of "auditions" for shows to be filmed later. They are Liberace's new musical show, another starring Freddy Martin and his orchestra beamed direct from the bandstand at the Cocoman Grove, and a third, John Guedel's "For Better or For Worse," dealing with broken marriages and hosted by Prof. James A. Peterson of USC.

NINE writers NINE—wow!—that's how many scripters producer Irving Pincus has signed to write the new season's Real McCoys episodes. All 39 of 'em, including talents as Bill Manhoff and Phil Shuken. I can remember when writers snubbed TV assignments? Whaddya think I am—a hack? Now they're fighting for the privilege.

THE SHOOTING of Dan McGrew, with Kay Starr as the dance-hall doll who did the shooting, is being prepared as a 90-minute fall spec. Producer is Hal Stanley, Kay's ex-husband, and he hopes the hour-and-a-half showcasing will signal a future series based on the same. It's a musical western, natch.

Jack Benny and this reporter are campaigning for the TV industry to stage an annual Re-Evaluation Academy Awards presentation for those old movies on TV. You wonder how some of them drew audiences into theatres, let alone Oscars into the hands of the people who made them!

Kay Cunney, Dean Pearson Recite Vows at Catalina

Romantic Catalina lived up to its name Sunday afternoon in the marriage of Kay Cunney and Dean Pearson. The setting was the lovely patio of the Visitors Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, Charles Cranmer, the bride chose a waltz length, slate blue peau de soie gown with a matching hat band of blue flowers and she wore a corsage of white orchids.

Judge Ernest Windle officiated at the double ring ceremony while music was played by Lisa Alonzo and the Tropicaires.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Goebel, daughter of the bride, wore an imported blue lace dress and a corsage of pink roses. Best man was Jack Watts.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cranmer of Moline, Illinois, and resided in Avalon during 1949 and 1950. For the past eight years she has resided in Palm Springs where she owned the Outpost Motel and the Farm House restaurant.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pearson of Los Angeles, has been a summer resident of Avalon for the past ten years. He is employed by the Visitor's Country Club.

Palm Springs guests included Mrs. Alyce Mills, Mrs. Mary Hokey and Jim McDermott.

Following the reception in the private dining room of the Country Club and dancing on the patio, the newlyweds left for a short honeymoon at Lake Arrowhead. They will reside in Avalon.

Gordons Attend 95th Birthday Party for Father

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Gordon were in Arlington recently to help celebrate the ninety-fifth birthday of his father, J. F. Gordon. Zadio Bunker who had been the Gordon houseguest for several days, planned to take Mr. Gordon for a flight but wind conditions prevented. Mr. Gordon took his first flight with Mrs. Bunker on his birthday last year, and was looking forward to a repeat performance.

There are five generations of Mr. Gordon's family living.

School Bells Almost Ready To Ring Again

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Look who's answering the back-to-school bell this fall. Mom, pop, grandma and grandpa, along with their youngsters.

So many adults are enrolling in colleges, universities and public school programs for grown ups that one educator joked, "Life begins at 45." For some, classroom life begins anew when they've reached their 60's, 70's, and 80's.

Dr. John B. Holden of the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department, Washington, gave these statistics on "older" back-to-schoolers.

HEW's latest survey showed that between the ages of 45 and 59, there are 1,913,000 students. In the 60 to 74 bracket, 465,000. In the 75 and older, there are 50,000.

"And the totals grow each year," said Dr. Thomas J. Gilligan, assistant executive secretary of the adult education program, the National Education Association, Washington.

"Some people go back specifically for a high school diploma or college degree," said Gilligan. "But a lot of them are people facing retirement with time on their hands and a feeling they might just have missed something from their earlier school days. The world has changed so much."

"And some of the parents just don't understand their kids, especially in talk about science and international relations," quipped Dr. David Rauch, of the adult Education Department of the Great Neck, N. Y., public schools system.

Great Neck's program is in its 24th year and one of the most successful in the nation. The suburban town has a population of 48,000. Its adult class enrollment is 6,000.

"We stress learning for learning's sake," said Rauch. "But the program, like others, gets a tremendous number of women who start brushing up on an old skill, such as typing, so they can go back to work when the children are grown and away from home. Or, if they didn't work before their families came, they prepare for a job. Not so much for the

THOUSAND PALMS

By IZETTA HUNT

Miss Grace Hyde left Thousand Palms this Wednesday morning for two or three weeks vacation visiting with friends in Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

Mrs. Dagny Campbell, from Santa Barbara, has moved into the Hidden Springs area.

Mrs. Jerry Floyd returned home this week, from a summer in Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Floyd will remain here for two weeks and return to Denver, accompanied by Mr. Floyd, for a couple of weeks and then return home with the children in time for school in September. Her mother, Mrs. William Kennedy will remain in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Furr and two sons, from Wisconsin, were visitors with his brother, Mr. Jim Furr.

Harry Oliver's youngest daughter, Mary Alice, and her husband, Bob Ballinger, came down from Pacoima, California, to spend a day with Mr. Oliver. They took him out to the Lone Palm for dinner, and then returned to The Old Fort to take advantage of the shade.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Miller and children vacationed with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. George Zielke, at Moses Lake, Washington, this past month. While there two of their children, Cheryl and Terry, had bronchial pneumonia, so all were glad to return to their desert home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen, and two sons, from Lancaster, California, visited with her mother, Mrs. Frank Bruder.

Sergeant Kinder, wife and son, from San Francisco, California, were down with Tony and Eve Schaefer last weekend. Part of their time was spent at the cabin near Idyllwild, California.

money, as to keep interested and have something to do."

Holden said his researchers find the older students are most interested in peoples and governments. More than one million of the over-45 students are in civics and business courses.

He said interest in trade and business courses decreases as age increases, although 14 per cent of those 75 and over are taking courses which help them earn a living. Men show a lively interest in agriculture and vocations; women in general and recreational subjects.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gardner are members of the "summer colony" this year. They will take a few short trips but most of the time they will be right here, and in a swimming pool, if possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stretch motored to Warner Hot Springs Tuesday to spend the day with the Herb Shaws and the Don Hunters, who are spending about ten days there — while there the men folk enjoyed golf and the ladies swam and visited.

Mrs. Forrest White (Alice Parry) has been in and out of the desert all summer. If it gets too warm she flits off to the coast to cool off.

Word was received here of the quite sudden death of Mrs. John G. (Jessie) Hill. She had been a resident of Palm Desert and Los Angeles for many years and has many friends here who will be saddened by her passing away.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Waterman, owners and managers of the Gala Villa took off this week for a two month tour of Europe. They will start with the Scandinavian Polar flight direct to Copenhagen, Denmark. They will tour Denmark, Norway and Sweden before going to Belgium. And to the Fair, of course!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks who are summering in Banning, come down home now and then and entertain their desert friends quite frequently.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crouse are thoroughly enjoying their European trip, according to the glowing accounts they write to all of their friends here. They will arrive home this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Welle, Jr. have left for a six week tour of England and the Continent.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By JACK CUDDY
United Press International

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Silky Sullivan, the highly touted come-from-behind thoroughbred who had a dismal campaign in the East this year, will not only run again but may be the "horse of the year" in 1959, trainer Reggie Cornell said today.

The three-year-old chestnut who won the $100,000 Santa Anita (Calif.) Derby early this year in sensational fashion is being treated now with a potent medicine to shrink the adenoid-like polyps high in his nostrils and give him free breathing, Cornell said.

Silky is taking his ease during the treatments in Cornell's stables at the Del Mar race track, about 15 miles north of San Diego, Calif.

WHEN THE HORSE returned to California after his failure to come from behind in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, he was examined by Dr. Alex Harthiel of Louisville, Ky., noted veterinarian. He used a new-fangled German instrument equipped with many mirrors that revealed the growths far up the nose.

Dr. Harthiel then prescribed the new drugs—powdered iodides taken from sea-kelp and other sources.

Cornell, who trains Silky for owners Tom Ross and Bill Klipsch of Los Angeles, said, "We also fired both front legs from ankles to pasterns to avoid any future soreness in running."

Cornell said Silky now is being pointed for the $150,000 Santa Anita Maternity, about Jan. 29 or 30. He is expected to have one or two prep races before that.

"WE BELIEVE SILKY still has the greatest potential of any horse in the country," the enthusiastic trainer continued, "and we know now that his loud, hoarse breathing in the past was caused by the growths in his nose. Without them, I'm convinced he would have won both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness."

In mid-September, when the Del Mar track closes, Silky will be shipped to Half Moon Bay near San Francisco to start training. Bill Shoemaker will continue as his rider.

Cornell continued, "Silky won seven of his 15 starts with a clogged nose. Watch him come from behind in his races next year with free breathing as a four-year-old and be the top horse of '59."

D'Amato to Quit If Harris Wins

OCEANSIDE — (UPI) — Cus D'Amato let it be known today that he would be "through with boxing," one way or the other, if his boy, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, loses the title to Roy Harris Monday night.

D'Amato will concede to no one that Harris will beat Patterson, but had a ready answer when asked what would happen if Floyd was defeated.

"If Floyd loses, I'm out of boxing, overnight. I'm through," the champ's manager said.

Patterson is a heavy favorite for the bout.

D'Amato's comments came as Patterson put the finishing touches on his training for the title bout. The champion boxed two rounds Friday, but planned only routine conditioning today before breaking camp and heading for Los Angeles.

Dodgers Move Into First Division

Win Pair to Tie Cardinals

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Those daffy Dodgers are back in the first division today, thanks to one of the neatest jumps since Steve Brodie took his famous flyer from the Brooklyn Bridge.

Only four days ago, the Dodgers were floundering around in the National League cellar, but now they're looking smart and sassy in a fourth-place tie with the Cardinals.

It's the first time they've been this high since the opening week of the season and if they notice some kind of funny smell they may be assured it is only fresh air.

They negotiated the big jump by sweeping a two-night double-header from the Cardinals Friday night, winning the 11-inning opener, 4-3, and the nightcap, 5-3.

Elmer Valo's pinch single with the bases loaded off Larry Jackson in the 11th inning gave reliever Clem Labine his sixth victory in the opener. Carl Furillo and Don Zimmer homered for Los Angeles while Gene Freese and Ken Boyer connected for St. Louis.

The Dodgers collected only five hits in the nightcap but two of them were homers by starting pitcher Stan Williams and Gil Hodges.

The Milwaukee Braves lengthened their lead to seven games with a 1-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies; Cincinnati snapped Pittsburgh's seven-game winning streak, 6-1, and the Cubs defeated the Giants, 3-1, in 10 innings.

In the American League, the Yankees' lead was sliced to 13½ games when they dropped a 6-2 decision to the Red Sox; Washington defeated Baltimore, 3-1; Kansas City crushed Detroit, 12-5, and Chicago edged Cleveland, 4-3.

Wes Covington drove in the only run in Milwaukee's win over Philadelphia when he singled home Eddie Mathews in the eighth inning. Carlton Willey limited the Phils to six hits in beating Robin Roberts for his eighth victory of the year. One of Philadelphia's hits was a third-inning single by Richie Ashburn, the 2,000th hit of his major league career.

Hines Under Par In Senior Play

SPOKANE, Wash. — (UPI) — The third round of the National Seniors Open Golf Tournament got underway here today with Gene Sarazen, the "squire" of Germantown, N. Y., holding a one-stroke lead.

Others who remained under par for the 36 holes included Jimmie Hines of Palm Springs.

Souchak Leads St. Paul Field

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Burly Mike Souchak took a one stroke lead into the third round of the $25,000 St. Paul Open today with visions of repeating his 1956 performance in the 25-year-old event.

Souchak used a "magic" putter Friday for a 64 and a 36 hole total of 130, 14 under par. He had a one shot lead over Sammy Snead, who is making his final 1958 tournament appearance, and Ernie Vossler, the bespectacled young star who copped the Kansas City Open.

"I'll take one more round like that," Souchak said, "and let the other boys try to catch me."

All Stars Stun Lions Club 35 to 19

Collegians Sparkle in Upset Win

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three potential pro greats, Jim Ninowski, Bobby Mitchell and Bobby Joe Conrad, sparkled like satellites Friday night to lead the College All Stars to a 35-19 win over the Detroit Lions, but the Cleveland Browns and Chicago Cardinals will reap the future rewards.

Ninowski, from Michigan State, completed 14 of 20 passes for 243 yards and two touchdowns and Mitchell, from Illinois, hauled in five of his tosses for 145 yards and two touchdowns. Both have been drafted by the Browns for the coming pro season.

Conrad, from Texas A. & M., never had tried a field goal before. He attempted four against the 1957 pro champions and made every one, from the 19, the 44 and twice from the 24 yard lines, and he converted after each of three All Star touchdowns. He belongs to the Cardinals.

George Wilson, coach of the Lions, who couldn't talk to his team for more than four minutes at the half due to a power failure, said that "we played like the lights were out all over the field."

Fabulous Babe Story Lives On

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Ten years ago today, at precisely 6:45 p.m., Babe Ruth had a premonition. Slowly, almost tediously, he swung his body around and tried to get off his hospital bed.

"Where are you going?" a doctor asked anxiously.

"I'm going over the valley," the Babe said simply.

Those were the last words anyone ever heard him utter. An hour and 16 minutes later, he was dead.

At 3:46 p.m. the following day, a shiny, low-slung hearse cruised quietly up to the main entrance at Yankee Stadium. Eight pallbearers then solemnly carried Ruth's body into the rotunda of the ball park.

The Babe was back in the house he built — back for the last time.

They're sure to tell stories about the Babe for as long as the stadium stands, even for as long as baseball ever is played.

Ruth was a physical phenomenon. He could break all the rules in the book the night before and then sock a pair into the right field seats the following afternoon. And how the fans would roar when he'd give 'em that appealing "home run trot" of his around the bases.

There are those who say the Babe was a little boy who never grew up. Could be.

One night, he invited Jac Cuddy of the United Press International sports staff to what he called "a small party."

"I've got some work to do and I may be a little late," Cuddy said, "how long will this party last?"

"Three days," the Babe grunted.

Ruth's stock greeting for everyone, for tycoon and batboy alike, was "Hi ya Keed!" He couldn't remember names to save his life.

Once, after being in the company of a close friend for almost a week, he had to introduce him to someone else and he was stumped.

"How do you pronounce your name again, Keed?" Ruth inquired.

"Joe," came the reply.

That was the Babe all over.

Valdez Demands Crack at Title After Victory

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — (UPI) — Manager Bobby Gleason, who yelled himself hoarse Friday night to stir sluggish Nino Valdes into a narrow split decision over Mike DeJohn, screamed even louder today for a shot at the heavyweight title.

"We don't care who wins the bout Monday night in Los Angeles," the diminutive Gleason said. "My boy rates a crack at the championship. We've been sidetracked long enough."

However, the fifth — ranking Valdes, slow at 214 pounds, was anything but impressive as he decided the left — hooking DeJohn of Syracuse, N. Y., at Rochester's War Memorial Auditorium.

Valdes, punishing DeJohn about the body from in close, hammered the Syracusean to the canvas twice, in the third and the ninth, but failed to finish him off in the manner a ranking challenger should. Each time De John scrambled to his feet and belabored the Cuban with a raking left hook.

Valdes was well ahead on points in the early rounds but tired noticeably and DeJohn came on in the middle rounds. Then under the urging of Gleason, Valdes shot the works in the ninth and tenth to grab the verdict by a single point.

Campbell Wins in Amputees Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. — (UPI) — George Campbell Jr., a Belmont, Mass., golfer who lost his left leg in a 1943 train wreck, won the National Amputee Tournament Friday by defeating Stanley Zakas of Cleveland on the second hole of a "sudden death" playoff.

8-Run Outburst Wins Game for M&M Softballers

An eight-run sixth inning gave M&M-Lehrfeld a 10-8 win over a Palm Desert Junior Chamber team that had led most of the way in a practice softball game at the Polo Grounds last night.

One of the smallest crowds of the season watched the winners trail at one point by five runs before finally pulling the game out of the fire.

With Palm Desert leading 6-2 at the end of five innings M&M called upon their ace pitcher, Bill Tichenor to come in and stop the Jaycees. He pitched two innings and only allowed one run on a single hit.

Meanwhile his teammates were banging out eight runs on seven hits and an error including triples by Pat Kelly and David DeGrandi, just up from the Little League.

Palm Desert's big inning was the second when the netted four runs on doubles by Andy Waterman and Richard Reakes.

The score: R H E
M&M - Lehrfeld 10 11 4
Palm Desert J. C. 8 7 4

SCORE TESTS ARM
CLEVELAND, Ohio — (UPI) — Herb Score, Cleveland Indians' left-hander who has been on the 30-day disabled list because of a sore elbow, said today he will begin "lobbing a few" Monday.

Burglaries Reduced by Home Checks

453 Vacant Homes Watched During Summer

It's still vacation time for hundreds of Villagers, but not for Palm Springs police officers who are now keeping careful eyes on 453 vacant homes.

Police Chief August Kettmann said the constant surveillance of homes vacated by traveling Villagers has proved its success in the low number of break-ins.

Chief Kettmann said only a few minor cases of break-ins have been reported.

Although vacation time is nearing its end, Chief Kettmann renewed his request asking Villagers planning to leave their homes for any period of time to fill out a vacant property report at the police station.

Homes listed in these reports are periodically checked by regular police patrols and reports on the vacated properties are sent to the property owners.

Strawberry plants can now be tested for invisible virus diseases that have previously gone undetected. By grafting leaflets from the plant to be tested to a virus sensitive "indicator plant" of the strawberry species, scientists can determine whether the test plant is diseased. If no symptoms appear in the indicator plant within four to six weeks the plant under test is considered virus free.

VERSATILITY and musicianship of the Deacons, above, are expected to draw huge crowds to Desi Arnaz Western Hills Hotel. Making their Palm Springs-desert resort area debut in Desi's glamorous sunken bar last night, the Deacons proved to be just what the doctor ordered as a summer entertainment treat. The talented group is not content with making conventional sounds. Boasting an unusual array of instruments, including an amplified mandolin, an electronic guitar and bass viol, the Deacons capture effects and sounds that are truly different. They are also talented fun-makers, interspersing their exciting instrumentals and vocals with several hilarious comedy routines.
